SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

My friend, Alice Meusburger, the former Alice Strain and I were visiting the Aero-View Airport. We decided to rent a special airplane to help us visit our former classmates. It was ten years since we had graduated. I was now manager of the Snyder's Slip and Slide Ballroom in Lytton. I had long since tired of the slogan "Everything's better in Yetter" and had changed it to "Everything's hitten in Lytton."

Alice Meusburger had finished her schooling at the Personnel Training School in Omaha and had married Kenneth Meusburger. They now lived south of Lytton on the farm with Kenny Jr. and little Alice.

We hopped in our airplane and headed toward Washington, D.C. On the way we saw a big light flashing off and on. We flew down to get a closer view. The sign read "Uncle Dave's Restaurant-We serve anything to anyone at anytime. We stopped by to see what the sign meant by the word "we". We found David Lohff and Verlyn Scharn working in the place. David was chief cook and Verlyn was chief bottle washer. We ate a dinner at their restaurant of fried grasshoppers and chopped seaweed and then left.

We flew on to Washington, D.C. We visited the White House, where we found out that Sandra Oestreich was the first woman President of the United States. Her cabinet consisted of Mr. Albin Alexander, Rock Hudson, Mr. Dale Ball, Mr. Max Mabie, Mr. Bruce Curtis, Mr. Don Klink, and Jim Nepl. She said that she had chosen some of her former teachers because they had given her such good grades in high school.

While we were in Washington, we visited Congress where Senator Larry Williams was giving a speech on "The Effects of Women in Government". We thought this was an appropriate speech because 500 of the 535 members of Congress were women.

We hopped in our airplane again and headed for New York City. There we found Shirley Grau playing a concert at Carnegie Hall. She had had her name linked in society columns with Liberace.

As we flew over the St. Lawrence Seaway, we waved to Francha Smith who had been supervising the Seaway since she bought it last summer.

As we flew over the Atlantic Ocean toward London, England, we saw Nelda Kreft directing the social activities on the ship, Queen Mary.

In London we found Leah Patterson, the former Leah Schultz, representing the United States at the Big Four Summit Conference. With her at the Conference was her husband, Dennis and Dennis Jr. Representing Russia was Khrushchev, Jr. and his wife, the former Virginia Stone.

We left London and flew to Paris, France, where we found Mildred Rix owning "Millie's Beauty Salon". She won a contest which gave her a trip to Paris where she set up her practice.

We then returned to the United States, where we found Doris Jones at Cape Canaveral, Florida. She was to be the first woman to travel to the moon.

We flew on to New Orleans, where we found Doris Batz singing in a nightclub. The name of the nightclub was "Harold's Nightspot". She said that she liked this job because she met so many different people.

After leaving New Orleans, we flew on to Colorado where we found Karen Kuhrt, the former Karen Patterson, riding in a rodeo. She told us that she was known as "Keep With Them, Karen" because of her expert Brama Bull Riding.

We left Karen and flew on to the salt flats of Utah where we found Arthur Lange testing out his new car that runs on water instead of gas. He said it cost less to run one of these cars. After visiting with him we flew back to Lytton to get back to the old grind of working.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1960, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament. This becomes legal on this day of May 23, 1960, in the town of Lytton, State of Iowa. This is entirely of our own making and we are in no way influenced by the underclassmen who spent most of their noons in Mr. Giles' Study Hall.

ARTICLE I: To our "Bald-headed teachers", Mr. Townsend and Mr. Giles, we leave a years supply of Hair Restorer. (This is for all the hair you lost worrying about us.) Oh! Don't forget to give a little to Mr. Curtis, who is going fast. Remember--Just a little dab will do it!

ARTICLE II:

Doris Batz wills her good voice to Carol Hameister. Don't strain your tonsils, Carol!

Shirley Grau wills her laugh to the chicken farm and may the egg production increase.

Doris Jones wills to George Wattonville her long hair so that his may be longer.

Nelda Kreft wills all of her old boyfriends to Judy Hameister, providing she takes as good care of them as Nelda did.

Arthur Lange wills to Harlan Meyer his ability to sleep in classes for four years and still manage to graduate. You've got a good start, Harlan.

David Lohff wills his brains to Dan Casey. If you use them as good as your FEET, you'll go far in this world.

Sandra Oestreich wills to Sara Jane Kreft her natural curly hair in place of Sara's much used curlers.

Karen Patterson wills her ability to crack gum to Linda Jackson. With yours and Karen's put together, you might drive everyone crazy, Linda.

Mildred Rix and Virginia Stone will their ability to argue with each other on any subject, even though they both know they are wrong, to Kaye Kreft and Marlene Meyer. This will be quite a change, won't it girls?

Verlyn Scharn wills his good looks and butch hair cut to Willy McHugh, thinking it's about time for him to have another one. (Hair cut that is!!)

Leah Schultz wills to Harriet Cross her long fingernails so she can defend herself against all guards. (And we don't mean basketball guards, Harriet.)

Francha Smith wills her ability to write notes during school time and not get caught to the Freshmen girls. With this ability, girls, the noon study hall will be quite bare???

Pat Snyder wills her patience to Mr. Schmidt, who doesn't do so well at times!

Alice Strain wills her quietness to Sharon Jackson. "There will be peace in the valley tonight!"

Larry Williams wills to Cheryl Wise his ability to be prompt! (No matter how long it takes!!)

ARTICLE III: To good old L.H.S. we leave a part of us in exchange for all the fond memories we take with us.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

Our days are quickly passing by
As the sun sets in the West.
And though we'll soon leave Lytton High,
It is the place we like the best.

For twelve long years we've made a fuss
About English, history, and art.
But all these days behind us,
Will linger in our hearts.

We'll miss our teachers and our friends
As we step through life's wide door.
Though all of us won't school attend,
This world will teach us more.

We'll think of Lytton constantly
As we scatter far and wide,
And we will admit frequently
This school has been our pride.

Yes, we have been the Senior Class,
And now from here we'll part.
Through life's wide open doors we'll pass
With sad but happy hearts.

If we are granted the knowledge,
To know just what is right.
Then give us the courage to do it
For a future long and bright.

Good
 Luck
